I wish to express my deepest gratitude and sincere thanks to Prof. Masato M. Ito, Soka University, Tokyo, for his efforts as the Page Manager of the whole series of “Introductory Chemistry”. Without his efforts and skillfulness, the English version of these series of textbooks would not be published here electronically in PDF files, so that the potential users can easily study the essence of chemistry in English.

Many young students whose mother language is not English wish to learn organic chemistry in English. I hope this English version will satisfy the demand of these potential users.

I would like to extend my greatest thanks to Soka University who kindly accommodates the whole files of “Introductory Chemistry” for open access electronic publication.

Yoshito Takeuchi

Editor-in-Chief, Introductory Chemistry
